R. I. MEN GET RAISE IN SALARY

According to notice received by the local offices of the company, effective June 1, all unorganized employees of the Rock Island railway, receiving salaries of $125 per month and under, will receive increases which will average approximately five per cent.

For men drawing $15 per month and under, the raise will be $3, and for those drawing from $15 to $75 the increase will be $4, while those up to $125 will be paid $5 more per month.

In the master mechanic's department in Chickasha about 20 men will be affected by the raise and about 200 others more in the yard office and freight department will be benefited.

COFFMAN COURT IS KEEPING BUSY

It was a sad and solemn and dreary hour, with the exception of the spectators, which confronted Mayor Coffman at the early session of the police court this morning. The net proceeds of the morning's run amounted to $50, all paid except one lone some drunk who was remanded to the hold-over until such time as Daniel Bentz, of street-working fame, may take him forth to swear upon the highways and byways of Chickasha.

Warren Davis, first to bat, called for a slow ball on charges of being drunk and kicking up a row on Chickasha Avenue. Davis, it was stated, is a vaudeville actor who permitted the idea to permeate the innermost recesses of his head that he was a bad actor, also. Judge Coffman tossed one over in the sum of $5 for the drunk and an extra dollar for the bad acting.

Mr. Miller, teamster, who was charged with having gazed upon the rose while it bubbled, plead guilty to plain drunk charges and was handed a toss across, worth $5. Not having the dough, but assuring the officers that he could raise it, a policeman was detailed to accompany Miller on his money chase. This was done after the mayor had delivered a lecture upon the evils of intemperance as practiced by all men in general, and old men in particular.

J. Platole was the next called to the batter's box. He struck out on a slow ball which cost him $5, after he had told the judge that he was soused to the guards when the officers gathered him into their kindly arms.

Ben Fillmore was the next gentleman to draw down a $5 bundle following a verbal acknowledgement of having exceeded his carrying capacity when he placed his tonnage of red eye last night.

Mr. Morris, a son of the carnival, was the last of the booze puncheons called upon the carpet. Morris stated that he had been drunker than seven dollars and fifty cents last night. He was fined $5 and stated that he had not the coin of the realm upon his person, but that the boss of the carnival would surely come through for him.

"I am an able and a talented and a trusted employee of the show, your Honor," spoke the defendant. "Investigate, Mr. Chief," instructed the mayor. Chief Phillips "investigated" and reported that the boss of the show had fired the defendant yesterday afternoon on the grounds of drunkenness and that he proposed for him to remain fired.

Tom Boggs closed the performance of the morning as far as the booze artists were concerned. He captured the usual $5.

All booze matters having been disposed of, Mayor Coffman asked Chief Phillips in a soliloquy manner about the welfare and general health of any speculators who might chance to have been detected banting the wind.

Claude Crisp and John Rodgers, whose cases had been carried over from yesterday, were handed bunches which cost $5 each for exceeding the speed limits. Charley Venable also pulled down $5 worth of admonition for trying to turn the streets and avenues of Chickasha into a speedway.
